DEATH REOPENED

County Police Round Up
Bootleggers in Effort
To Secure Witnesses To Farm Activities.

Release of L. B. Fuller, owner of the "death farm" on Simpson road, after he had implicated Thomas B. Trollinger in the slaying of a negro whose body was found in a shallow grave on the farm, in a statement made before Assistant Solicitor John M. Hudson, and reopening of investigation into the death of Millard Allen, who was killed by Trollinger recently, formed developments Friday of the county's investigation into the alleged bootlegging vendetta existing at the farm.

The president was arrested by county police and placed in the county jail Thursday night, a charge of murder being docketed against him on the jail records. The farm owner Friday afternoon was taken to the office of the county solicitor where he is alleged to have made a lengthy statement regarding what he knew concerning activities of a bootleg ring which is said to have operated in the farm vicinity.

Solicitor Hudson declined to comment on the statement made to him by Fuller, but said that the owner of the farm was allowed his freedom because of his familiarity with a number of witnesses the state was Horta, Azores Islands, November 4.—Well here we are at last at the real jumping off place for our flight to New York after weary days of waiting for the weather to give us the chance to make our start from Lisbon.

This morning we caught the right combination—good weather reports from the weather bureau at Horta and an equally good one from the weather bureau at Lisbon. So at 6:21 we were off with easterly winds to aid us and the visibility very good. Get ready for radio.

Washington, November 4.—(AP)—While witnesses before the house ways and means committee today were suggesting an overhauling of the nation's revenue laws, President Coolidge let it be known that the $225,000,000 reduction in tax set by the treasury must be adhered to in drafting the new law.

The president was pictured as standing squarely behind the treasury estimate and the white house discussion of the tax cut in advance of the treasury estimate when the president made known that he was opposed to the $100,000,000 reduction proposed by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Administrative Features.
As the house committee continued with its hearing of testimony from witnesses representing the legal profession, the business world and miners and farmer, it found itself confined again to a discussion of administrative features of the law rather than with the actual rate structure. A

Chairman of Gotham
Committee Says Checks
Were Sent to French
Ambassador and Cashed

New York, November 4.—(AP)—Disposition of the fund of more than $82,000 contributed in the United States for the dependent families of Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli, missing French fliers, was clarified tonight by Bernard H. Sandler, chairman of the New York committee, who stated that the checks had been cashed by Paul Claudel, French ambassador to this country.

Sandler's statement followed that earlier in the day of Dudley Field Malone, head of the central committee, who asserted that the Coli and Nungesser families never had received the American funds because the committee handling them had "fiddled around" and finally sent them to the wrong place. He described the donations as "a distinguished gentleman of the committee" the checks had been sent to Claudel instead of Theodore Roosevelt in Paris, as had been originally intended.

Sandler said that on the advice of a distinguished gentleman of the committee the checks had been sent to Claudel instead of Theodore Roosevelt in Paris, as had been originally intended. The French ambassador received the checks with thanks, Paris, Sandler said, and cashed them upon his return to Washington, October 5. The canceled checks bore Claudel's indorsement, the New York chairman asserted.

Sandler, who held that there would be no difficulty in getting the checks cashed, asserted that the contributions had been withheld from the aviators' families awaiting arrival of the American funds.

COUNCIL TO GET TRACK LOWERING CONTRACT MONDAY

City and Rail Officials Reach Agreement on Form; Early Start of Work Seen.

Ratification of the contract with railroads, over whose tracks the Princeton street Central avenue viaducts are to be constructed, was placed squarely up to city council by action of the conference committee Friday in settling upon a proposed contract, and machinery of the city government was placed in motion Friday night to assure its approval Monday, thus removing the last barrier to beginning actual work on the projects.

Every force of the present city administration will be used Monday when the contract is offered to city council for its sanction, it was predicted Friday night, when it became known that actual start on the projects is only a matter of a few days if council approves the action of the bridge committee and bond officials in the agreement secured Friday from railroads.

Major L. N. Ragsdale expressed gratification at the agreement, and declared that work on the projects is only a matter of days, if the contract is given the approval of council at the Monday session.

"Railway officials and city officials have settled on a form of contract which will be acceptable to all persons connected with the proposed contract," the mayor said. "I am especially gratified that council will have an opportunity to act on the proposed contract at the Monday meeting, and feel sure that it will be approved by a unanimous vote."

"T. B. Hill, president of the N. C. & St. L., and Charles Wickersham, president of the Georgia railroads, showed a desire to cooperate with the city Friday when they waived a condition that the city should deed a Death robbed prison walls of the Georgia state prison farm in Milledgeville of a life-time prisoner Friday, when news was received of the death of Harry F. Redwine, Atlanta, blind slayer who on July 22 sliced the throat of his wife and then turned a pistol on himself in an effort to end his own life.

Officials of the Harry G. Poole funeral establishment received a message from Redwine's death and are making preparations for funeral services. The body will arrive in Atlanta Saturday morning at 6 o'clock.

'Paul Revere' in Auto SPREADS WARNING AS RESERVOIR BREAKS Saves Many in Flood

Becket, Mass., November 4.—(AP)—To the heroism of one of its residents, this little town of 650 inhabitants owes the fact that only one life was lost in the flood which burst its banks early today and sent a torrent rushing down upon the village. The hero was William Ballou, owner of the reservoir.

When the great downpour of rain last night threatened to burst its walls he went out and with the fire chief indication that they were through the way he drove his automobile through the village warning the people to run for their lives. Most of them heeded the warning and reached safety before the wall of water struck the town.

Mrs. Gustine Carroll, the only victim heard the warning but hesitated before she could leave her home the water struck it and she was swept away.

The rush of water swept away 25 houses and business places, made 150 persons homeless and caused at least one million dollars property damage.

Philip Rayford, for 22 years a merchant in the town, saw his savings of nearly $20,000 wiped out in a twinkling as the flood hit his place.

Describes.

"I shall never forget the scene," he said tonight. "William Ballou had just rushed into my store and told me that the reservoir had given way. There was a terrible roar as the water rushed down upon the town and there was hardly time to grab hold of anything. The houses were carried away almost like chips and the temperature had dropped. Little suffering was likely, however, as all of the victims of the disaster were being cared for by friends in the town."

Mrs. Carroll, who was drowned, was warned to leave the building where she was. She hesitated and then it was too late. A part of the house in which she was living was swept away and she was in that part that was in the path of the torrent. The people who were trying to help her did not see her after the flood hit.

Another resident who escaped only through the strength of his arms was Frank Prentiss, 68, whose home was directly in the path of the flood.

Prentiss, warned of the break in the reservoir, mounted on the upper part of the house as the water struck the building and carried it from its foundations. He clung to it and rode downstream on the building until it swept by a tree. He caught a branch and hung on until the flood hit him.

He then crawled under the debris and was rescued by a neighbor who had come to his assistance as soon as the water had dropped away from the tree.

Cherries.

Tonight nearly one-quarter of the town's 650 residents were homeless. Industries wiped out by the flood employed about 200 persons.

The telephone exchange was destroyed, but its manager, P. B. McCormick, was the first to send out the news of the disaster. Rayford, on the street, saw the lines down and he spliced a telephone instrument to a wire on a pole and telephoned the story of the flood to Pittsfield.

London, November 4.—(AP)—Under the large type headline "Queen Marie a Prisoner" the Daily Mail prints a dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, reporting to give "thoroughly reliable unconfirmed information" from Rumania that the Bratislava queen will not allow the dowager queen and Princess Helen to leave Bucharest for England, as the royal family planned to do.

"We have found complete happiness," the 61-year-old princess told

the United News in an exclusive interview a few hours before she departed Friday. "Why can't they let us alone?"

The only shadow of our romance,

she continued, "is the unkind and untrue things newspapers have said

about me and my fiancee."

"We are doing no harm to anybody. Marriage is an affair between two people alone. When a third party gets mixed up in such events, then all sorts of unkind things are heard," she said in perfect English.

"In our case, out of a population of 90,000,000, it seems that about 100,000 people in Bonn alone are concerning themselves in our affairs," she said.

She dismissed disturbing reports

with a laugh and said:

"My brother," she said, referring to reports that the ex-kaiser had refused his consent to her marriage,

"allows none to interfere with his affairs and does not mix in mine."

MONTPELIER LOSS

RESIDENTS OF MANY SECTIONS
SPEND NIGHT IN DARKNESS AND OTHERS ARE FORCED TO QUIT HOMES.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

A steadily mounting death toll and property damage of millions of dollars is indicated in reports from flood-ravaged towns of New England.

Unconfirmed reports Friday night were that from 137 to 212 persons lost their lives in Montpelier, Vermont, with the collapse of a large reservoir.

A score or more of other deaths were reported from widely separated towns in Vermont, Connecticut and Massachusetts, in the grip of floods for four days due to rains in rivers bursting as a result of excessive rains.

The affected area comprises largely the New England mill district, which, due to lack of power, was idle today. Residents of many sections spent the night in darkness, and thousands of families, forced from their flooded homes, took to higher ground.

Flood conditions extended into part of New York state, up into Maine, where a 60-mile gale whipped the sea into a fury and sank at least one ship, and into Canada, where crops were destroyed and railroad lines washed out.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR IS REPORTED DEAD.

Binghamton, N. Y., November 4.—(AP)—Lieutenant Governor S. H. Jackson of Vermont, was reported to have lost his life in the flood which has engulfed Montpelier, according to a wireless telegram from amateur station 1-BEB at Rutland, Vt., signed by L. J. Kelly, the Montpelier correspondent of The Associated Press.

The message said also that nine persons were reported dead in the neighboring city of Barre.

The message was picked up late yesterday by Arthur L. Kent, an amateur operator, at 190 Court street this city.

Station 1-BEB reported that it had been trying all day to get in touch with the outside world, but owing to the lack of power it had been unable to do so.

The message reported that the flood waters were twenty feet deep, that people had been marooned in their homes and that the Red Cross was dispensing food and relief.

No check had been made on the

RUSSIA LEARNS THREE R'S

Authorities Plan to Make Education Compulsory by 1933 in Effort To Decrease Illiteracy.

BY MADELIN LEOF.

Moscow, Russia, November 4.—(P—) Otto Musgrave, young Haitian attending a negro college here, today was held in the city jail while police investigate a long series of burglaries that have baffled them for the last six months.

A search of Musgrave's home after his arrest late yesterday resulted, police say, in finding of two strings of pearls, cigars, cigarettes and other articles identified as having been stolen.

Musgrave came here from Philadelphia two years ago. He told police the stolen articles were given to him.

HAITIAN STUDENT HELD IN CAROLINA SERIES OF THEFTS

Rock Hill, S. C., November 4.—(P—) Otto Musgrave, young Haitian attending a negro college here, today was held in the city jail while police investigate a long series of burglaries that have baffled them for the last six months.

A search of Musgrave's home after his arrest late yesterday resulted, police say, in finding of two strings of pearls, cigars, cigarettes and other articles identified as having been stolen.

or some other strict pacifist faith—must train in the army, thousands of soldiers are learning their three R's.

The soldiers have their own dramatic clubs and reading societies. In their reading rooms they have what they call a "wall paper." This is a large billboard where the men write and sketch their impressions of life in the army and in the cities under the present regime.

Education Compulsory.

The school system is, of course, the most important and the most crowded. Lunacharsky, commissar of education and culture, has as his assistant Chudakovsky who acts as the head of technical and professional education, the new teaching method in Russia into four classes.

"We have the same four large diversify social, professional, political and research schools. We have our preparatory schools and our universities as much as you do. Our university undergraduates are older than yours, often as old as 40 years, because today we are giving the factory worker and peasant the chance to go to school—a chance they never had.

"In order to go from a lower school to the university, one must pass the necessary examinations. Our universities are so crowded that those who are closest to the top are the first to be admitted. Our universities are supported by the state, by trade unions, and by profit from cooperative stores.

"Our students are given 25 rubles ($12.50) a month on which to feed and clothe themselves. They live in dormitories owned by the state. Often the state takes homes away from private individuals, finding them other rooms, if it needs a certain location for the students.

Women Medical Students.

"Engineering and industry is very popular today. In the Leningrad Polytechnic there are 7,000 students to-day, 1,000 of whom are in the economics department, and the remainder in engineering hydraulics.

"Fifty percent of the students are women. Doctors do not want to go to the country, and we have a surplus of them in the cities."

The subjects taught are similar in some respects to those in America. Russia uses the Dalton or project method, an American experimental method of teaching.

The books of John Dewey, professor

Columbia University, are used. There are special centers where the Rus sians try out new methods of education and use them if they are proved good.

No history is taught in the school

except that of Karl Marx, placed in the curriculum. Few students study foreign languages.

If they live in a republic belonging to the soviet

they must study Ukrainian and Russian.

There are no private schools in Russia. All students are supported by the state and all professors are paid by the state.

Political education and economic theory are important to Russian students. Many of them specialize in it, but all of them spend time discussing its problems and questions.

Elder Rescuer Accepts $1,000

DUTCH TANKER'S CAPTAIN HESITATES AT ACCEPTANCE

As Token—Will Give to Fund

Brownsville, Texas, November 4.—(P—) The "rule of the sea," as he explained it, caused Captain T. Goss, master of the Dutch tanker Barendrecht, to hesitate today about receiving through the agency of the Associated Press a token of $1,000 from Wheeling, W. Va., citizens in gratitude for saving the life of Ruth Elder and George Haldeman at sea near the Azores, October 13.

Finally he said after the ceremony of presenting the gift had been completed, he would take it as a token, not a reward and would donate his share to a Dutch fund for the relief of seamen's widows and orphans.

The Barendrecht picked up Miss Elder and her co-pilot, Haldeman, when they were forced down at sea on their projected trans-Atlantic flight last month.

The fund which the captain received today was in three checks. Instructions were to deliver one to him for $100, another for $100 for the relief of seamen's widows which rescued Miss Elder and a third for $500 for the Barendrecht.

After the Associated Press representative had handed him the gifts as a tribute from Miss Elder's friends and had explained how it was the Association of ship's officers, news-men and officials of the oil company, which was loading the boat, and planned his previous disqualification to accept the gift. He had changed his mind, he said, when he came to think of it as a tribute and not as payment for services.

"It is strange experience for us to be rewarded for saving human life," the captain said in the course of his address to the audience. But he added, "we cannot be paid with gold that greatest gift to the people of Wheeling and obligation to the Associated Press for handling this token, for token I must consider it and not reward. Hence I now see it, accepting it will not tend to commercialize that rule of the sea which we have had for so long."

Explaining that the money would be turned over to the Dutch seamen's fund, the captain added with a smile, "You see we might some time desire to be rescued ourselves."

The ceremony was carried out in the cabin of the Barendrecht which was at anchor here completing a load of gasoline and kerosene for Barcelona.

Talmadge, however, did not receive

He made the counter charge that his removal came about at the hands of Worsham and declared that Worsham was attempting to "further his own political schemes" in the removal of the state entomologist.

Tax Cut Through Economy Urged by Fulton Grand Jury

With a view to reduction of taxes, the September grand jury Friday in its presentments completing its term of service recommended that the Fulton county commissioners adopt "a more economical administration of the county's affairs."

Recommendations that beggars "infesting the streets of Atlanta" be sent to the almshouse or removed from the streets by some other means; that the salaries of county school teachers be placed on a par with those paid teachers in the Atlanta public schools; and that the law be changed to provide the almshouse and with particular regard to bathing facilities.

Jere A. Wells, superintendent of county schools, was commended in the presentments for his work and the grand jury also complimented the county school educators.

Noise Protested.

Disturbing noises arising to the grand jury from South Peachtree street were deplored by the grand jury, which expressed the opinion that a suitable room could be provided on the suitable side of the building which would solve this condition.

The 532 convicts in Fulton county changings are well cared for, the grand jury reported.

The presentments were signed by Walter G. Cooper, foreman; B. S. Barker, secretary; Oscar Palmer, assistant secretary; J. H. Austin, C. B. Burch, M. Brown, E. Calaway, E. M. Durant, E. R. Hayes, T. LaLanne, Butcher, Lipscomb, G. F. Longino, Jr., D. C. Lyle, C. P. Lyles, J. E. McPulchon, J. H. Moore, Seagraves, M. W. Stallings, R. B. Stearns, H. L. Waits and J. B. White.

One Lone Drunk Causes Brooklyn Traffic Tie - Up

New York, November 4.—Pink elephants and purple camels chasing a mouse in the Interborough subway at Nostrand and Franklin ave. fascinated in the worst transit tie-up Brooklyn has experienced in many months.

For 16 minutes, during the morning rush hour, not a wheel turned on the subway trains of the New York avenue and Flatbush avenue lines.

Thousands of men and women sat in the semi-darkness of the emergency lights while others passengers, if they were lucky enough to be at a station, took taxicabs and trolley cars to their work in Manhattan.

The cause of all the trouble was one Joseph Hennessy, 41, no home address. Presently he was arrested after he had been turned over by a special officer of the Interborough, said Hennessy was suffering from the effects of a prolonged spree.

Hennessy was committed to Bellevue hospital for observation by Magistrate Simpson, who arranged on the complaint of the special officer, who said Hennessy was responsible for the tie-up. The subway police man told the court he caught Hennessy after the latter had "pulled" the emergency power box. When arrested Hennessy talked incoherently, the officer said, and declared he was being pursued by a multitude of animals and an army with pistols.

SECOND PAN-ASIA MEET IS OPENED WITH 52 PRESENT

Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.

Shanghai, November 4.—Fifty-two delegates, representing China, Japan, Turkey, Persia, Ceylon, India, Afghanistan, Formosa and Arabia, opened the second Pan-Asian conference here today.

The Indian delegate, Pratap Singh Kherpuri, after a circuitous trip through Japan, eluding the British authorities, the conference was held outside the foreign settlement, in Chinatown.

Owing to the fact that most of the delegates are members of revolutionaries, fireworks are expected.

The Pan-Asian conference was organized five years ago under Japanese auspices as a result of the United States immigration laws and British colonial legislation barring Asiatics.

The Philippine Islands is the only Asiatic nation not represented in the conference.

ROALD AMUNDSEN SILENT ON REASON FOR QUITTING U. S.

Oslo, Norway, November 4.—(AP)—Roald Amundsen, Arctic explorer, arrived at Bergen today on the steamship Bergensfjord from New York, to give any explanation of his abrupt departure from America which necessitated the naming by his manager of several lecture engagements and caused the Explorers' club of New York to consider withdrawal of its medal it had planned to bestow upon him.

Amundsen said that any talk of his getting married was nonsense. He said he may go to South America for a visit, and to make some lectures. He is due here Sunday.

DOZEN EGGS LAID IN HEN CONTEST GIVEN PRESIDENT

Washington, November 4.—(AP)—A dozen eggs, laid by the four hens which are leading in the national egg-laying contest at the University of Maryland, were presented to President Coolidge at the white house.

The presentation was made by Roy H. Waite, professor of poultry husbandry, and J. E. Metzger, of the extension service of the university.

Each of the hens has laid 300 eggs or more during the past year. One produced 314.

COLLEGE TEACHERS AID IN GOVERNMENT SURVEY OF STATE

Heads of departments teaching governmental branches in colleges and universities are cooperating in conducting a governmental survey of Georgia, it was announced by Governor L. G. Hardman Friday. The educational officials are doing this work without any remuneration, according to the governor.

In his inaugural address the governor committed himself to a policy of reorganization of the state fiscal system with a view toward improving the efficiency of the system whenever possible and improving the general functioning of the governmental machinery. Similar surveys have been made in Oklahoma and other states.

A CRISIS, UP TO COUNCIL.

After a two-day session all of the conferees have reached an amicable
and a satisfactory agreement
on a contract for the necessary track lowering, as preliminary to the beginning of the construction work on the two viaducts.The mayor, who has done valiant and aggressive service in these negotiations, and all parties to the agreement, are to be warmly commended.The railroad executives showed a gratifying and commendable spirit of cooperation. They agreed to concessions at the final session Friday that made the contract immediately possible.It is understood that the railroads take the position that the acceptance or rejection by council at once will determine whether or not this work will be started before another year's delay.It will be impossible to go ahead with the work if it cannot be completed before the winter rains and the winter congestion.The matter, therefore, is now squarely up to council.The contract as agreed upon will come up before that body Monday for ratification. Unless it is ratified the enforced delay of several months will not only cost the city
many thousands of dollars, and continue a condition of uncertainty and unrest, and the penalization of a great area of central business property but it will seriously endanger the entire viaduct program.The situation, it is obvious, is crucial. The crisis is up to council.There is no time now to quibble over preee-matters. It is time to act, and with broadness and vision.The mayor made a strong and forceful plea for the acceptance of the contract as it will be submitted for approval.Chairman Neely, of the bond commission, makes an earnest plea
for its ratification, and points out the costs and dangers of further delay.The Federation of Labor and other groups urge immediate action.It is imperative, if Atlanta is to begin her bridge construction this winter, for council to act favorably Monday.

THE LEGION CAMPAIGN.

Every man who served in any capacity in the world war ought to join the American Legion.The spirit of democracy that had, necessarily, to prevail in the service
has gone far to strengthen the tie between all the people of the nation.Castes have been obliterated, and while all people are not on a social parity, and of course should not be, there should always exist a close comradeship between the men who fought side by side—one perhaps the son of a wealthy industrialist and the other perhaps the son of a laborer in the factory.Neither patriotism nor service can be measured along any line save that of humanity.The Atlanta legion will seek in the days intervening between Friday, November 4, and Armistice day to increase the membership by 2,000 as a minimum. It is difficult to realize that there are that number of eligibles in Atlanta who have not affiliated with their "buddies"
in this great organization.The legion does far more than merely keep alive the comrade spirit. It is engaged in building good citizenship, moral lives, in betterment and welfare. It is an ac-tive, resourceful service organization.The approach of Armistice day ought to impress upon every ser-veman the obligation to join the legion.

JURY REFORM IMPERATIVE.

The Washington street car conductor who is reported as weeping and wailing because he, as one of the jurors in the Fall-Sinclair trial, gave out the tip that the jury was being tampered with, ought to console himself with the thought that he did his country a real patriotic service if he saved two arch conspirators against their government from finally escaping punishment by reason of a corrupted jury.This brings up the question, what was the obligation of this jurymen?Not only his oath demanded, but his conscience, as an honest man, demanded, that he disclose any attempted corruption from anyThe world hates a "squealer," but it is not "squealing" when one performs a sacred duty.His mistake was in going to the newspapers with the story. He had been instructed in the judge's charge to talk to no one on the outside, and this injunction he should have obeyed. When evidences of corruption came to his attention he should have asked permission to place his facts before the trial judge in chambers, and before the attorneys for the government.However, despite any mistakes
he may have made, the fact that the jury was being tampered with,
as alleged, may or may not be proven, but the incident has created such indignation throughout the country that a determined demand
will be made when congress convenes for federal laws that will materially reform the existing jury system.In an address Thursday, referring especially to the Fall-Sinclair trial, Chief Justice Tait, of the United States supreme court, declared that there must be a revision of the jury system, as well as removal of technicalities from the laws, before criminal law administration can be effective.He feels that more power must be placed in the hands of judges to stop pettifogging by opposing lawyers, and to help jurors get a clear conception of the evidence instead of being lost in it through deliberate tactics to confuse by clever lawyers.As to the necessity for jury reform the chief justice said:"The method of selection ought not to be such that counsel for the defendants, by exclusion of worthy citizens from the panel, get jurors of weak intelligence of little experience,
and subject to emotions easily aroused. It is not an easy reform, but I am very confident that with the people aroused as they are on this subject, and with their energy and attention and criticism directed to the legislatures, much progress can be made."While a revision of the jury system as applying to federal courts devolves upon congress, it is up to the state legislatures to revise the state rules, and in this way make new rules for the selection of juries.Every person familiar with court procedure knows that there is generally a group of "professional juries"
hanging around courthouses for the purpose of being drafted into service when those called for jury duty are "excused" for one reason or another. Such professionals are, by reason of their courthouse loitering, unfit for such service, but scheming shysters too often manage to get them accepted for the purpose of defeating or cheating justice.The Fall-Sinclair case, from its beginning four years ago, presents
so many evidences of weakness in the laws and of loopholes for escaping punishment that it ought to serve at least one good purpose—
and that, a general revision of criminal laws and of court administration.On the morning of her marriage
a Milwaukee woman's jaws locked and her fiance flushed her to the hospital where under ether the jaws opened and she was able to reply to the nuptial ceremony. Love is beautiful!Just to show the 4,000 ice men in Atlanta that the city was fortified on the opening day of the convention the weather broke the seasonal record for heat.An author was arrested in Pittsburgh for writing a bad check. All we need now is a check on the writing of bad books.The London nurse who for a hoax claimed she broke the record
in swimming the English channel, stated she only plunged into the water at the starting point, motored across the channel in a leisure-manner, and off shore in France took the water again. Instead of being tried for the fake, King George should confer on her the Lady of the Bath honor.Rumania is suffering from a king-mania.The farmer with a flock of turkeys is doing the relieving now.The question at issue is one of supreme importance to the friends of farm relief legislation and particularly to the members of the Georgia delegation who voted for the McNa-Haugen bill.I was the first member of the Georgia delegation to vote for this bill, and I shall do so again at the next session of congress. If the new bill will be inroduced at the seventeenth congress contains substantially the same provisions of the bill which passed the sixtieth congress; provided nothing more satisfactory can be obtained at the hands of congress and the president of the United States in behalf of the industry.The bill respectfully submit, is the outstanding question to be solved by the next congress unless agriculture is to be ignored and excluded from federal protection as it has been since the formation of the government.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

When Jerusalem
Was Taken.The diaries of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief-of-staff in the British army during the war, and who was murdered in Ireland during the civil war there, have created a sensation in England. Many of the living statesmen are quoted there with sayings that they disavow entirely
now. A great deal of criticism has been leveled at Marshal Wilson for revealing things that transpired behind the scenes during the peace conference that should have remained unseen until the chief actors in that world drama had disappeared from the earth. His judgment of President Wilson was extremely harsh. He was all for Clemenceau and even favored a punitive expedition against the Bolsheviks, to be headed by Foch.
Mr. Lloyd George has written in The Times that "words spoken in jest were recorded by Marshal Wilson as having had a serious intent." This refers to Sir Henry's entry: "Saw Lloyd George today. He is all for continuing the campaign in Palestine.
He said: 'We must take Jerusalem, because the Welsh will like it.'Service must be unselfish, if it is the real, genuine article. The men selfishly deserve not only praise, but hearty, sincere support.There is too much disposition to criticize. There should be more to gressive municipalities under the

IN MONTPELIER.White River Junction, Vermont, November 4.—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports of total loss of life in Montpelier,
the state capital, where the collapse of a large reservoir was said to have flooded the city deeply, were in circulation here tonight. According to these reports the death list ran from 137 to 200. Montpelier is about 50 miles from this point and is completely isolated.Telephone and telegraph service
from the state capital failed early last evening and since that time no definite news has been received. Two telephone girls, who were left Montpelier
to safety, were found dead this morning. One was a young girl who had been left behind by her parents. The other was a girl who had been left
by her parents to care for her mother who was ill.Reports from over broken lines of communication brought news of death
and destruction from every quarter.
Vermont, which has been silent for over 16 hours, was still crippled and silent. Rumors of scores of deaths and property damage into the millions continued to leak out from the deluged state.Accurate estimation of the number of dead was virtually impossible.
Eleven persons are known dead.
Others place the dead in the hundreds.

Report Uncertain.

An entirely unconfirmed report received by the Western Union at White River Junction, Vt., said that 170 persons had lost their lives at Montpelier. It was reported at Burlington, Vt., that the main street in Montpelier was under 20 feet of water. Houses had been undermined and destroyed in the Vermont capital.Darkness came upon the stricken area, relief workers were working frantically, aid to the thousands of helpless and homeless. Red Cross officials have thrown their every resource into the fight against the flood.From Burlington came reports of damage to homes and industrial properties amounting to millions of dollars. Not a wheel turned today in the factories and mills. In many parts of the city and rescue workers
saved scores from their flooded homes
in boats.

Cuts Wide Swath.

Dripping fingers of the great rushing flood have already reached Connecticut and Rhode Island and have penetrated New Hampshire.Across central and western Massachusetts were swelled and had broken banks in many places. Homes and factories along the route of the flood were in many cases undermined
and swept away.Communication was almost impossible. Train tracks were washed out.
Telegraph and telephone lines were down.Reports from state troopers who had reached the stricken village of Becket reported that town had been entirely swept away when the reservoir burst and loosened a ton of earth into the river.The series of meetings are to be held

VALLEY MENACED.Albany, N. Y., November 4.—(AP)—
The Hudson river valley was menaced today by the worst autumn flood in its history.In addition to receiving the overflow of its countless tributaries swollen
by more than 36 hours of driving rain, the bursting of dams along the Hudson river, in Vermon, poured down into the Hudson a mighty volume of water.However, the property damage was not extensive, in contrast with conditions in the adjoining states of Vermont and Massachusetts. Farms in the lowlands of the Lebanon valley, in northern New York, were inundated.Some livestock was drowned and a few homes were inundated. High ways were submerged, traffic on some railway lines was halted and bridges
were washed out, but the waters didThere should always be cooperation and coordination between departments of government.This applies to municipal government as well as to state and federal government. Such cooperation is more directly effective in municipal government for the administration of services that are vital to the home, to the public welfare, come to citizens of cities
from the administrative branches of local government.He has made a careful study of paving conditions in every section of the country and is well qualified to take charge of the paving program and carry it through to a successful conclusion.One by one the smaller cities of the state are paving their streets and it is safe to predict that within the next few years every small town and city in Georgia will boast of well paved streets, thereby adding to the beauty, safety, comfort and pleasure of the inhabitants.The Atlanta school board, citizens committee and bond commission have been cooperating to a marked degree
in getting started the school projects
embodied in the bond issue program.

Cooperation of council is expected.

The bond commissioners, and the especial committee charged with the administration of the school building
funds, have worked tirelessly, faithfully and well at the task assigned.

I Have Said in My Heart

By IDA MCGLONE GIBSON
HAPPINESS

"I am very happy," I remarked, to my secretary, the other day. "Why shouldn't you be happy?" she returned, unexpectedly. "You have something and someone to live for."

Some way, I had never gotten just that point of view on happiness before.

You see, she made no allusion to anyone living for me, no one doing anything particularly to make me happy. She had evidently worked out the conclusion that these were unnecessary and extraneous to anyone's real happiness.

They might give an added zest to one's work, an added pleasure to one's spirit but, as far as she was concerned it seemed to me that to live for something which engrosses one's time to the extent of where one forgets one's self was happiness.

I know it is an old-fashioned as well as a trite idea—I believe it is as old as The Man who gave so much for us—that the greatest happiness in this world comes not from receiving but giving.

Giving our time to a cause, a business, a profession, a work of our hands or an effort of our brain, giving ourselves wholly to those we love, helping them to attain their heart's desire—no one who has ever known great happiness does not know that only by this can one attain the greatest happiness.

It is true that our modern viewpoint is slightly different from this. We are all of the "gimme" class, consequently we are rapidly forgetting what constitutes real happiness.

We are prone to forget that giving is not inimical to the growth of egotism.

To always be on the lookout to get yours and get it first will absolutely take from one the power to grasp and retain happiness or anything else worth having.

One of the great reasons why marriage is so unsuccessful nowadays is because we want to be given something by those we love, instead of giving to them.

This is not a sentimental idea, it is distinctly a common sense conclusion that every person must come to through the cold processes of brain analysis as well as the warmer and more emotional content of the heart.

Memo: The mere fact that one can give and give and still give makes one understand that one grows bigger with every gift.

Sun afternoon at the Richmond county flying field. Bonnie has worked out a clever idea in air stunts, and will spring it on a Georgia audience for the first time Sunday, November 5, morning for Atlanta aviators will have this morning for Atlanta for the world's first flying program in that city. The planes will be piloted by George A. Shealy, Johnnie Gill, Mr. P. E. Kyle, of Candler field. They will return to Atlanta on Monday. Incidentally, within the week, they will seek permission from the city for an airplane-auto change stunt at Candler field, to be held within the next two weeks, the aviators said Friday. Rowe plans to hold the stunt on the race track road. As the automobile will have to make 60 an hour to keep up with the plane the stunt promises plenty of thrills.

One Long Hop. Twelve-day air service between England and New Zealand is forecast by the British air ministry, according to a department of commerce bulletin. A special mission has been appointed to investigate possibilities of establishing bases in New Zealand. The airships as proposed are to carry 100 passengers each, and will follow the routes of the old sailing ships. South Africa has already ordered a mooring tower and is expected to be an important link in the system.

JURY TAMPERING LAID TO SINCLAIR

Health condition, Dr. J. Kilroy, Fall's physician, announced tonight.

Fallen off a broken limb, Dr. Kilroy is constantly in attendance.

The physician said the former interior secretary has a pulmonary congestion in his right lung, which he characterized as "extremely serious."

James E. O'Neill, the date for the retrial of the Fall-Sinclair Teapot Dome case, which was stopped when charges of jury tampering were made.

Go After Blackmer.

Government oil counsel next sought before Justice Frederick L. Sodden to declare Henry M. Blackmer, the famous missing oil witness now in jail, to testify. The court, however, failing to come back to testify in the recent trial. The penalty would be seizure of Blackmer's property in the United States to the amount of $100,000 under the recent Walsh law.

That day, the Sinclair oil official was exonerated of tampering with the grand jury investigating the tampering charges when he said his testimony would tend to incriminate him.

Complaints Sworn Out.

He was immediately hustled across the street to United States Commissioner Needham C. Turnage, where a complaint was sworn out against Day. Sinclair was then compelled to confess to the intent to influence the jury in the Fall-Sinclair Teapot Dome trial.

Day pleaded not guilty and was released on $25,000 bond.

At the same time a warrant was sworn out for Sinclair, who went to New York last night.

George A. Hoover, Sinclair's lawyer, pushed him to the courthouse and went into conference with United States District Attorney Gordon, who emerged some time later and announced that Sinclair's warrant had been revoked.

Warrant Held in Abeyance.

It was a mistake, was all he could say to persistent reporters. Later on he explained the complaint stood, and that the warrant was merely being held in abeyance since Sinclair was already under bond on other charges and was subject to call.

"Sinclair isn't going to run away," Gordon said.

"We didn't want to take a chance on Day getting away, but that does not apply to Sinclair."

Hoover, in his reflection on Burkinshaw, his assistant,

"The warrant for Sinclair was issued without my knowledge and I never intended that one should be issued against him," Gordon continued. Gordon denied that he held up service on Sinclair at the suggestion of Sinclair.

THE MINUET
—beautiful wedding silver

A matched table service in the Minuet design is one of the nicest gifts you could choose for the November bride. This design is very graceful and the plain surfaces and scrolled pediment expresses the American ideal of elegance and good taste. Appalling Increase of Crime Among Young Alarms Judges

Means with which to deal with "the appalling increase of crime among the young people," was the object of an executive conference between the Fulton county grand jury, seven state and federal judges and three prosecuting officers held last Monday in the grand jury chamber of the courthouse.

Presentments handed Judge John D. Humphries, senior judge of the Fulton superior court. Friday morning before the retiring grand jury received details of that unusual gathering of jurists and officers and grand juries.

The discussion, lasting two hours, brought out the following facts, according to the presentments:

During the nine weeks of their term, the grand juries found 300 true bills, covering the whole range of crime.

Nearly all of the offenders indicted were under 25 years of age.

The juvenile court during the past year dealt with more than 4,000 juvenile offenders and during the same period the number of adults tried about 1,000. This total of 5,000 juvenile delinquents exceeds the total enrollments in all of the high schools in Atlanta and Fulton county.

The loss of the customs of the family, the imitation of parental conduct, and abhorrence of authority, according to the presentments, were among the chief causes of waywardness in young men and women, the judges declared.

"Many a boy tried in my court just acted out what he saw in the movies," said Judge Watkins.

"This frightening influence," the presentments affirm, "exists at a time when the forces at work for the improvement of society and the development of men and women are more numerous, better organized and more numerous than ever before."

Many new schools, Sunday schools, two great universities and a theological school have been established here in the period covered by the delinquency estimate, the presentments stated.

"In this community," the paper continued, "there are 110,000 church members, 50,000 in Sunday schools,

10,000 in private schools, 10,000 in parochial schools and 49,000 in public schools, but in the face of all this effort to improve conditions, crime, especially among the young, is increasing at an alarming rate and all that the schools and the courts and churches can do does not stop the tide."

Most crimes of violence are committed by young people under 25 years of age and in most cases the perpetrators were under the hateful influence of bootleg liquor. This vile stuff not only destroys the health of those who take it, but produces in them a mechanical mania which endangers the lives of those about them.

"There is evidence to show that bootleggers encourage larceny by fur-

Leister Boy Given Hope by Doctors

QUERY NEW CHAIRMAN OF TAX MEN'S MEETING

While conceding him for the first time a chance to recover, doctors Friday stated that Loren Leister, 12-year-old victim of a shot on Hallie night, was yet at the threshold of death.

Young Leister, who was shot by E. F. Kehely, according to a confession reported by police, further stated that the shot was fired in self-defense at a man he had quarreled with, according to the alleged confession.

Until today doctors had expected

the death of the boy almost hourly, but an eminent brain specialist, after an examination and consultation with attending surgeons, said Loren has some slight chance to recover.

The bullet struck him in the forehead near the right eye, and his right side is paralyzed. For a time his power of speech was gone, but he recovered that sufficiently to talk with his father and his grandmother, whom he called for.

Kehely was bound over Thursday by Recorder Murphy M. Holloway on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

GOLF SOCKS FOUND WOOL INDUSTRY SAVIOR

San Francisco, November 4.—(AP)—Silk skirt manufacturers in the wool industry and gold socks have put new life into it. W. P. Wing, secretary of the California Wool Growers' association, declared at the opening of the twentieth annual convention yesterday: "Demand for socks has more than used up the wool on hand when fashion decreed shorter skirts, he said.

Both Little Rock, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn., sought the next meeting of the conference to be held in their cities.

The date for the meeting will be announced later by a committee to be named by Chairman Querry.

During the conference various questions as to methods used in collection of taxes, taxation of products, not having stamps, and other questions connected with the work of the administrators were discussed by the speakers.

On the speakers on the program Friday were John D. McNeil, chairman, Alabama state tax commission; F. H. Moore, member Alabama commission; Clyde Head, Arkansas; R. A. Little, South Carolina; W. S. Bowden, North Tenn.; John M. Vandiver, Georgia; and W. N. McDonald, Louisiana.

In five states last year a total of $5,300,530 was collected in tobacco tax.

Both Little Rock, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn., sought the next meeting of the conference to be held in their cities.

Cincinnati, Ohio, November 4.—(AP)—George Remus, former bootleg king, awaiting trial for the murder of his wife, Imagine Remus, frustrated what was believed an attempt to end his life by means of poison candy today.

A box of candy, addressed to Remus, was received by guards at county jail and delivered to the prisoner. Remus passed it around. "The experience he gained some years ago as a chemist caused one of the guards to poison the candy as he hit it into a piece. He notified the guards of his discovery.

Samuel McQueen, one of the guards, already had swallowed a piece of the candy. McQueen became ill but was given immediate medical attention. He was confined to his bed at the jail tonight.

The writing on the wrapper of the candy box was in a woman's hand. No return address was given.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE TO CLOSE SUNDAY

Cartersville, Ga., November 4.—(Special)—The third day's session of the North Georgia annual conference, holding daily meetings in St. Luke's A. M. E. church, which was organized by Rev. R. Lee, pastor of New Hope church, Atlanta, Bishop J. S. Flanner, of the Sixth Episcopal diocese, presiding spent a busy day in hearing reports from committees on state of the country, state of the church, on education and on class work of those attending the conference.

The following committees were appointed today: On local board of education, Revs. J. R. Talaferro, J. E. Roberts, Z. A. Shaw, J. W. Means; on local board of church extension, W. H. Harris, A. J. Glanton, Dr. C. M. Baker; treasurer or 50 per cent Easter day money, Rev. R. L. Flanner; treasurer 50 per cent children's day money, Rev. R. J. Jefferson; conference superintendent of the conference A. E. E. league, Rev. J. R. Taliferro.

Bishop Flanner today announced the transfer of Rev. G. W. Wallace from the Atlanta, Ga., conference to the North Georgia conference.

The reporter showed that the ministers have rallied to the financial support of its university system of the church in Georgia.

Rev. S. J. Johnson, head of the church extension department, Washington, D. C.; Dr. J. G. Robinson, editor, S. S. Head, of the Conference League work, Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. D. P. Tolbert, Georgetown, British Guiana, South America, represented their departments at the conference today.

Rev. R. W. Barkus, white minister of Syracuse, N. Y., addressed the body today.

Rev. N. T. Thompson, moderator of the Baptist association, extended fraternal greetings.

Ministers who died in the conference this year included: Marietta district, Rev. S. Pritchard; Rome district, Rev. S. C. Malone, T. B. Bell; Athens district, Rev. Jasper Hemphill; Washington district, Rev. Elay Griffin, F. D. Worth.

The ordination of deacons and elders is set for Saturday and at eight

the educational mass meeting under the auspices of Dr. T. J. Linton, chairman of the educational work of the church will be held.

Dr. Carl E. Flanner, of the Missouri conference, will preach at 11 o'clock Sunday, after which the appointments will be read by Bishop Flanner.

Cartersville, Ga., November 4.—(Special)—Everything is in readiness for the Polk County fair which opens here next Monday. The Fair association owns its own grounds and upon which a race track has been built. Horse racing will be a feature of the fair all week, it is announced.

The association is having the operation of the Polk County Chamber of Commerce in preparing for the fair.

ATLANTA POSTAL RECEIPTS CLIMB

T.P.A. PostGains 100 New Members On First Day

October postal receipts of the Atlanta post office showed a slight increase over the same month last year, while the total receipts of 50 selected postoffices over the entire country recorded a decrease, according to figures released Friday by the postoffice department.

Atlanta's increase was .98 per cent, while the decrease for the 50 postoffices was 1.25 per cent. Postoffice receipts in this city the past October were $81,480.76, against a total of $87,758.04 for October of last year, or a gain of $5,692.72.

ATLANTA GAIN IS REPORTED.

Washington, November 4.—(AP)—October postal receipts showed a decrease of 1.25 per cent from those of October last year Postmaster General New announced today at the 50 selected postoffices. Four out of the five largest offices showed decreases, the others being the only ones to show an increase which was .02. New York's receipts decreased 1.08 per cent; Philadelphia, 1.57; Boston, 5.31, and St. Louis, 3.08.

Memphis showed the largest percentage of increase with 36.19; Jersey City, 14.37; and Milwaukee, 14.37, and Milwaukee, third, with 10.08.

Increases in southern cities were Atlanta, .98; Dallas, 1.89; Louisville, 1.81; Richmond, 7.27; Nashville, .36, and Fort Worth, .63; Houston, 3.81.

Decreases were shown in the following cities: Baltimore, 3.61; Washington, 5.40; New Orleans, 2.51, and Jacksonville, 1.86.

Spurred on by the success of the first day's activity of the drive of local post "B" Travelers Protective Association to secure 2,000 new members, more than 50 selected workers

Friday night prepared to swell their petitions for the return of the

Dempsey-Tunney fight films to the Georgia Power company, being erected on the lower Macon road, just inside of the Milledgeville city limits

is almost completed, according to R.

J. Wilson, district manager for the power company here.

This new substation represents an investment of approximately $50,000 by the Georgia Power company here. It is the second power plant erected by the company here.

The new substation will complete a "tie-in" with the super-power system that is being extended over the state. A line is being run to Gordon, Stevens, McIntyre and other points south of Milledgeville through the new substation. This line has a capacity of 30,000 watts.

This will give full of the power on the new line unlimited power from Tallulah Falls, Augusta and Aiken lines, Muscle Shoals and other power plants.

Two-way service will be maintained, retaining an extra 44,000-volt

line to Augusta, which will place continuous unlimited electricity at the disposal of consumers of the territory surrounding Milledgeville.

In addition to the new substation,

the Georgia Power company will within the next few months spend approximately $80,000 in the new distribution service here. The present service being rendered Milledgeville

consumers will be checked over carefully, and improvements made

wherever necessary.

A tremendous industrial development is seen in Baldwin and Wilkins-

son counties particularly during the next two years.

THEATER TO ASK COURT FOR FILMS

Milledgeville, Ga., November 4.—(Special)—The new substation of the Georgia Power company, being erected on the lower Macon road, just inside of the Milledgeville city limits is almost completed, according to R. J. Wilson, district manager for the power company here.

William Schley Howard, of the law firm said Friday that Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of the state supreme court, will be retained to hear the case either Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Howard would not reveal the contents of his petition, other than to say it will attack the legality of the seizure and deny that conspiracy existed in the showing of the films by the Metropolitan.

These films were seized Thursday afternoon by United States Marshals Louis H. Crawford on a warrant charging conspiracy to violate the statute which prohibits interstate shipment of films. The affidavits on which the warrant was based named Frank H. Hicks, alleged owner of the films, a man named McDonald of the Atlanta convention bureau, and others as co-conspirators.

Meanwhile, no further action has been taken by attorneys for the Howard theater to regain fight films seized in that theater last week, since Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley declined to interfere in the seizure. Judge Sibley on Friday handed down a formal written order refusing the film returned to the Howard.

WAR ON SANDINO FORCES PLANNED

Paris, November 4.—(United News)—With the arrival of the dry season, bombing and transportation planes will be used to augment the forces of United States marines and Nicaraguan guards in a combined drive to exterminate the rebels.

Almost daily skirmishes are reported between the joint patrols of marines and guards, and the rebel followers of Sandino and Salgado.

Aided by planes, the marines are sending out patrols daily to obtain definite news concerning the two missing American aviators believed to have been shot down a month ago by rebels. These patrols, however, have been unable to find the two missing aviators, who have fought the Americans doggedly. Only after they suffer heavy losses, according to word reaching Managua, do the rebels retire.

SYNOPSIS.

On the way to Donald Briery's house at Robington for luncheon, Connie Elmore, Donald's fiancee, tells her friend, Olive Weston, that Donald stands a chance of inheriting half a million from the estate of old Harrowby, a friend of Donald's father.

Olive is secretly in love with Donald but sincerely pleased at Connie's good fortune in winning him.

Donald and Querk, solicitors handling the Harrowby estate, are crooked and plot to cheat Donald of his fortune by having a spurious heir appear whose claim is prior to Donald's. In the midst of the plotting Augustus Briery, Donald's father, presumed to have died on the Titanic, calls on Sandie. Querk suggests to Sandie that he invite Briery to Harrowby house and there with the assistance of Querk's son, Wode, dispose of Briery.

Connie decides to visit her old nurse, who is now caretaker of Harrowby house. Mrs. Jean is out, but Connie finds the key and lets herself in to wait for her. She hears strange noises in the library and, going to investigate, she sees Sandie and another man kill Mr. Briery, whom she recognizes from his portrait. Rushing out of the house Connie stumbles into Mr. Querk. While telling her story Querk pushes the bell and sends a signal to the murderers. Connie sees a policeman and, calling him, the three proceed to the library and Connie asks Querk to open the secret panel in the wall where she had seen the men place the body. It is empty. Querk accompanies her to the police station, where she tells her story to the police superintendent. Querk intimates that she imagined the scene and, in exasperation, Connie goes to see Olive, who believes her story.

Querk requests Sandie to come to the superintendent's office and he presents his alibi, which the officer accepts. The two lawyers proceed to Wode's office, where old man Turle and his son, the spurious heir, await him. The old man dies just after they walk into the office.

The next morning Connie calls on Querk and meets young Jones there. She recognizes him as her old nurse's son, but does not know that he has been posing as Henry Turle, Jr. Querk later pretends that Connie imagined she saw young Jones. He tells Olives that Sandie is about to bring criminal suit against Connie unless she gives him her nearest friend, but he committed to a private institution at Maentown which he recommends. While Donald is visiting Connie at Maentown house a body is found buried in his garden. Olive, sent out on the case by her newspaper, meets and warns Donald. She arranges a hiding place for him in London. Olive goes to Querk.

Olive gets a position at Maentown House as maid in order to help Connie escape and she discovers the nurse trying to poison Connie.

INSTALLMENT LXII.

THE PLAN SUCCEEDS.

She retreats from the window as we see Nurse Flecker pull the trunk from under her bed, take the phial from under her apron, put the phial in the trunk and lock the trunk and push it under the bed again.

As the full significance of these movements broke upon her, Olive felt a choking sensation. She was horrified beyond belief.

She retreated from the window as we see she was shrinking from some loathly thing. By that act she had witnessed, all her plans had been scattered. For the moment she was dazed and irresolute.

When Connie came out of her bath, she looked under the bed, then started as Nurse Flecker came into the room.

"Your cocoon has been up several minutes. I hope it hasn't got cold," said the nurse as she handed Connie the cocoon.

Instantly, Olive was galvanized. Her irresolution had passed. She thrust open the French window and bounded into the room.

"Don't touch that cocoon, Connie—it's poisoned! Give it to me!"

Nurse Flecker screamed. Connie, staring from one to the other, was trembling violently, but silent. Olive, at the bedside now, took the cocoon from her nerveless fingers.

"It's all right, Conkinks, it's all right! Keep quietly where you are. I'll deal with her . . . Well?" she flung out at the nurse who stood, gray-faced and panting.

"What—what is the meaning of this?" stammered Nurse Flecker. "How dare you hide on the balcony?"

Olive placed the cocoon carefully on the mantelpiece.

"You know maids have no right to be in patients' rooms!" blustered Nurse Flecker. Olive turned and faced Connie.

"I'm not a maid. I'm a detective," she said incisively. "At least, I'm a detective as far as you are concerned. Don't you recognize me, Nurse Flecker?"

Nurse Flecker stared at her, then backed unsteadily to the door and leaned against it.

"Oh, what does it all mean?" whispered Connie.

"While you were in your bath, Connie, this woman put poison in your cocoon," said Olive firmly.

"It's a hell! You're mad! I can see it in your eyes—you're mad!" cried Nurse Flecker hysterically.

As she spoke the nurse came rapidly towards the center of the room. They reached out and picked up Connie's heavy silver hairbrushes. "If you try and get at that cocoon, I shall bash you with these," she said, brandishing the brushes. "As to whether I'm mad or lying, an analyst will settle that. And don't forget that I saw you put the rest of the stuff back in your trunk. The analyst is going to have a look at that, too."

Debutantes To Give Brilliant Charity Ball January 30, '28

The members of the 1927-28 Debutante club will entertain at a brilliant charity ball Monday evening, January 30, 1927, at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel. The proceeds from the ball will be given to the Georgia Children's Home society, this winter's buds having chosen to sponsor the older children of this worthy institution.

The program on the charity ball was made at a meeting of the Debutante club held Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Stephen Barnett on Fourteenth street, with Miss Mary Matheson, popular member of the club, acting as hostess. The members also decided to act as mannikins at a fashion show to be sponsored by a well-known Atlanta establishment during November, the remunerations for their services to benefit the little inmates of the Georgia Children's Home.

After the business session luncheon was served.

The officers of the Debutante club are: President, Miss Mary Louise Brumby; vice president, Miss Virginia Courts; secretary, Miss Mary Harvey; treasurer, Miss Anna Spangler. The exec. members are Misses Mary Inman Pearce, Edna Belle Paine, Mary Matheson, Florence Eckford, Catherine Boyd, Anne Kessinich and Mary Wellhorn.

The next meeting of the club will be held Friday, November 18, with Miss Virginia Courts at her home on Cherokee road.

Sixth District B. W. M. U. Is Widely Attended.

The rally of the Sixth District B. W. M. U. which was held at the Center Hill Baptist church on Thursday was attended by a large number of Baptist women throughout the district. Mrs. A. G. Sullivan, president, presided, and a splendid program was rendered. Mrs. Charles Outlaw led the devotional, her subject being "The Master Has Come and Calleth for Thee."

A talk was made by Mrs. J. H. Zachry, on "Stewardship"; Mrs. William Jones, on "Young People"; Mrs. Paul Etheridge, on "Systematic Bible Reading"; Mrs. I. B. Smith, on "The Baby Anniversary"; and Rev. Brodus Jones, on "The Christian Index in the Baptist Home."

Several solo songs were sung during the day by Mrs. L. S. Crawford and Mrs. R. E. Parker. Flowers were presented to Mrs. W. W. Jones and Mrs. Sullivan by the Center Hill sisters. Luncheon was served by the Center Hill society, which Mrs. W. A. Steerman is president.

In Response to Popular Demand

MR. GEORGE C. OAKLEY, OF NEW YORK CITY, will remain in Atlanta today and talk informally to those who are interested in "Better Pictures for the Home and School."

Mr. Oakley will be at Binder's main store, 117 Peachtree Street, from nine until five o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Smith-Sheffield Wedding Is Of Cordial Social Interest

Springfield, Mass., November 4.—

One of the most charming of the autumn weddings took place Friday afternoon when Miss Julia Edmond Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund H. Smith, of Mulberry street, became the bride of Mallon Jerome Sheffield, of Summit street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Snowden Sheffield, of Atlanta, Ga.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Moore McGinn in Christ Episcopal church. Music was furnished by the choir, directed by Mrs. Harris, organist, who played the bridal chorus from "Lochearn" and Mendelssohn's wedding march.

A reception for a large number of guests followed in the home of the bride's parents, which was decorated with holly wreaths.

Mr. David Mills, husband of Mrs. Edmund Smith, attended the bride as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Evelyn Smith, cousin of the bride; Miss Helen Leeds, Miss Alison Powers and Miss Josephine Powers, all of this city; Miss Elizabeth Gifford, Tarzwell, N. Y., and Elizabeth Walton, of Paterson, N. J.; Helen Oshorn and Roslyn Smith, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

Mr. Sheffield was attended by his brother, Harold Sheffield, of Atlanta, Ga., and the usher were James Parrott and one Rodney Smith, brothers of the bride. Charles Gowin Carter, Lewis J. Powers, Jr., Harris Baker, William S. Becken, Alton Notman and Richard Bourne, all of Spring-

Lovely Bride.

The lovely bride wore a gown of white satin with a broad sash of red velvet and a circular collar of duchess lace. Her court train was hung from the shoulders and trimmed with inserts of the same lace. She wore veil of duchess lace arranged in cap effect with wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Moseley wore a frock of green chiffon velvet fashioned in robe de style with large velvet hat of a darker shade. The bridesmaids were dressed in light green chiffon, fashioned in the same style as that of the matron of honor, and large velvet hats of darker green to match the matron of honor's gown. Mrs. Moseley carried butterfly roses and maidenhair fern, while the bridesmaids' bouquets consisted of queen chrysanthemums, Columbia roses and maidenhair fern.

The flower girls were dressed in shell pink georgette with pink chiffon hats and carried baskets covered with fern.

Mrs. Rebecca Lindsey Honors Miss Sadler.

Mrs. Rebecca Lindsey entertained from 4 to 6 o'clock Friday at her home on Ponc de Leon avenue in compliment to Miss Mary Sadler, a bride-elect of November 19.

In the receiving line were Miss Sadler, Mrs. Moseley, Mrs. Mrs. Biddle, the guest of Mrs. Lindsey.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Green Warren, Mrs. William McCormick, Mrs. Eugene Siebert, Miss Nell Candler, Miss Ann Scott Harman, Mrs. Gillespie Sadler and Mrs. Charles and Mrs. M. M. Nichols Barret and Mrs. Thomas Cooper.

Sixty guests were present.

Fulton U.D.C. Hear Delegates' Reports on State Convention

Fulton chapter, U.D.C., met Tuesday afternoon at the Georgian Terrace, Mrs. L. D. E. Quinby, president, presiding. All officers of the chapter made splendid reports. Mrs. Quinby and Mrs. E. B. Williams, delegates to the Covington convention, made interesting reports of the state convention. A resolution was introduced by Mrs. Edgar Alexander to send the general report of the C. to each general agent. The invitation to be extended at the convention in Charleston, also to invite the executive board of the Georgia division, U.D.C., to be the guests of Fulton chapter at its board meeting in January. This will be the first meeting of the newly-elected state officers. Mr. Tom B. and her officers. Fulton chapter had the honor of winning three prizes at the convention, including the Margaret Carter Hunt cup for the largest number of new members; the Raines banner for the largest number of new members on a percentage basis, and a star chapter banner. Honorable mention was made of Fulton chapter work at the Soldiers' home. The president, Mrs. Quinby, has offered a medal for the essay contest and through Mrs. H. G. Andrews, Mrs. Lynwood Jester has given a scholarship in expression. This will be the third year that the chapter this year and more will be given.

The well-dressed, yet eternally feminine American woman promenades on Fifth avenue from early morn till dewy eve, presenting the progressive color and spirit of the times. She wears same emerald green and wrap as does her sister in the town and hamlet, who could look and feel at home in New York, because the same fashion prevails everywhere. Arnold and Constable's centennial celebration depicts in one window the evening gown of 1827, which is by the style of today. It is made of purple satin in the empire period, and looks exactly like a ballroom gown of the Empress Josephine. Its skirt, which touches the floor, is edged in a flounce of real lace, and the round decollete need not be in lace while short puffed sleeves are fitted in lace. Another window pictures a costume worn by Mrs. Abraham Lincoln in the sixties, when she went shopping at this emporium. A full lavender taffeta skirt is worn over hoopskirts, and the wrap is a tight-fitting short jacket of soft silk, bordered in ermine, and a fine hat tops the dark curly hair.

New York in Repose.

New York is in repose inside the theater, where one enjoys the stimulating entertainment of the stage. The turn and bustle of traffic is left outside, and relaxation from the confusion and bustle of business has its appealing quality. "The Baby Cyclone," starring Grans Mitchell, is a George Cohan farce, with a laugh in every minute involving greed, the sale and ownership of a Pomeranian, deemed by a policeman the Park avenue bloodhound. An irate husband, jealous of the affections of his wife for the dog, sells it for $5 on the average, and the most amusing of predicaments follow, involving two other couples.

Down at the Mansfield, "The Springboard," has stars Mary Kennedy and Sidney Blackmer, and the play is the renamed "Vickie," by Alice Duer Miller, in which these artists appeared in Atlanta during the ten weeks' engagement at the Erlanger last spring.

That favorite, Mary Marble, is with the cast, and Don Marquis has to say of it: "The Springboard" is one of the most delightful comedies of the year, and fully as effectively acted as George Kennedy and Sidney Blackmer. Mary Boland's vehicle, "Women Go On Forever," takes its theme from "Men may come, and men may go, but women go on forever." In this instance, every woman in the play is on the lookout for love and a husband, while Mary takes unto herself the rôle of mother before the play is ended. The scenes are laid in a New York boarding house, with flappers, an old maid, and a widow having desperate affairs and marrying the men. Katharine Cornell's portrayal of "The Letter," as "compassionate and fascinating an evening as the theater affords." Ed Wynn, styled as a newspaperman, takes part in "Manhattan Mary," the greatest and cleanest musical comedy ever produced, and is destined for a long run at the Apollo on West 42nd street.

"The Love Call," which had its premiere last Monday evening at the Majestic, a musical play of the golden west, is based on "Arizona," a famous success of 25 years ago. Untold numbers of rangers, cowgirls, Mexicans, miners, soldiers, officers, and Indians, costumed according to the period of 1889, form a colorful background for the hoopskirts and pantaloons worn by the principal women taking part in the stupendous and lavish production. The west of the nineteenth century is presented in all its alluring and picturesque splendor. Sheba Canfield, an Atlantan, who tops the scales at over 200 pounds, takes the rôle of "Slim."

Ball Given English Prince.
The layer of the cast at 30th and Broadway, at which Joseph Santley's "Just Fancay," is featuring Raymond Hitchcock, Ivy Sawyer, Mrs. Thomas Whiffen and other celebrities, telling the musical version of an English prince who loved an American girl, is a picture of the Prince of Wales and his wife who visited New York before he became King Edward of England. An invitation, engraved in large flowing script beside it invites Mrs. Archibald Gracie, Jr., of New York, to the ball given at the Academy of Music, October 12, 7:30. Along with the invitation are the following instructions upon the way men and women should dress: "Ladies will not be admitted with bonnets. Gentlemen entitled to wear uniform are requested to do so. All others are expected to appear in evening dress: Black trousers, black dress-coat or black waist-coat and white cravat, or white waist-coat and black cravat (the former preferable) and light colored kid gloves. Umbrellas, canes, hats and overcoats will not be admitted in the ballroom, proper place being provided for their reception." The youthful Princess of Wales of today is an exact likeness of his late grandfather, King Edward.

Of news to Atlantans is the announcement that Young Smith, who married Miss Edith Brauson, of Athens, has been conferred the honor of dean of Columbia Law college. Mr. Smith delivered the baccalaureate address last June at the University of Georgia, from which he was graduated, taking a post-graduate course at Columbia.

Presented by the Associated Dealers in American Paintings, consisting of fine examples of American masters, as well as works of a number of young artists whose reputation is in the making.

Picturesque figures of the cowboy world are in the metropolis to take part in the second annual world series rodeo, being given at Madison Square Garden for the benefit of Broad Street hospital, which serves not only as constant protection for thousands of workers in the Wall street section but carries on relief work among families in tenements on the fringe of the financial district. "Dakota Clyde" Jones, who officially attended President and Mrs. Coolidge during their western visit last summer is here for the rodeo.

Fifth Avenue and Peachtree Sporting Same Fashions

BY BESSIE STAFFORD,
Editor Women's Department Constitution.

New York, November 4.—(Special.) Never was there such perfect weather. It's really too glorious to let the subject go unmentioned. The air is filled with wonderful sunshine, and the crispness demands a coat or fur to make for a comfortable feeling. Fifth avenue is perhaps the most fascinating street in the United States, presenting as it does so many varied interests.

NEW, SMART SPORTS

COATS
$39.75

The joy of the season is the mode of sports coats—a mode that is increasingly popular and universally appropriate. Allen's models, of mixed tweed effects and small plaids, are trimmed with fur, some are belted, others straight line. At a special price.

NEW FUR-TRIMMED

COATS
$58

One hundred and fifty brand-new coats, specially marked at $58—luxuriously furred—of excellent fabrics—just in! Blacks and tans predominate, with smart little ripple drapes, deep cuffs, and shawl or mushroom collars of long haired furs!

400 BRAND-NEW

FROCKS

$12

They are usually many dollars higher priced, these smart frocks of wool georgette, satin, crepes, velvet combinations, and metallic combinations. For the most part they are plain and tailored, but there are plenty of styles for informal party wear, too.

NEW BLACK SATIN

Black satins, high in favor and exceedingly smart, are in at Allen's, for Saturday shopping! Many show the crepe side in reversible trimmings—drapes, bows, plaits, and the feminine frills of the season are decidedly in evidence. Specially priced!

"I was doing very well in my dieting when I saw the family indulging in chicken and ice cream! I simply couldn't stand it, went home and ate more than the rest combined, but I'm going to start again. It's given me society and all sorts of rejections because I'm ashamed of my appearance. Hereafter I'm going to eat my dinner in the woodshed so that I won't grab any more calories than I allow myself. Despairingly, A."

Your resolution to eat in the woodshed is good! Keep out of temptation as much as you can. For instance, if you have any candy around, and can't give it away, throw it away. I've done that many times. Sometimes when I feel I must have a little candy, I buy one of those little five-cent packages, about an ounce in weight, eat two or three of them (they average 10 to 15 calories apiece), get my sweet tooth satisfied, and throw the rest away. I've finally reached the stage where I only eat a very little. Note your mistakes. And do you know that nuts, weight for weight, are more fattening than candy? Yes, it's on account of the oil in them. One-half ounce of nut meat is 100 C. and simple candy, one-half ounce, is about half that. Another thing, never eat bits of food to save them. Throw them away.

Chesapeake, A. Remember, the phrase I repeat for us: It is better to have lost and gained than never to have lost at all.

We have instructions on reducing and gaining weight. Those who are in need of them may have our booklet on the subject by sending a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps, to cover cost of printing and handling.

R. has frequent urination and asks what to do for weak bladder.

Frequent urination is often taken as an symptom of a weak bladder.

It may not indicate a weak bladder at all. R. If there is a large amount of urine, as well as frequent urination, it may be an indication of diabetes. If there is a small amount of urine, it may be that there is overconcentrated acid, and it is irritating to the system. Another possibility is that there may be an irritation or inflammation of the urethra or tube leading from the bladder.

There are other things which might cause frequent urination. You must see your physician and have an examination to determine the cause. It is wise to keep the urine as unirritating as possible, and the way to do this is to eliminate meats and spicy foods, and other constituents which will drink a great deal of water, and have large portions of fruits and vegetables in your diet. Don't overeat.

I suggest you send for our article on Balanced Diet, R. If you are interested, we have a list of books on diabetes written for the layman, which you may have by sending a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Tomorrow: Colitis, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Hay Fever and Asthma.

NOTE: Please send in stamped addressed envelope with requests for answers.

RACE BETTING UNDER FIRE IN KENTUCKY

Louisville, Ky., November 4.—(UPI)—Race horse gambling again has become a political football as opponents in the coming gubernatorial election plan to stand or fall on the time-worn platform of "parimutuels."

Kentucks will vote Tuesday on whether they want to elect a governor who sanctions betting or one pledged to "stamp out the evil."

John Creighton Wyckliffe Beckham, formerly Kentucky's "boy" governor, and a democratic United States senator in the dry ranks from the home of bourbon liquor, wants the nomination. And he gets it, he had promised to drink up the "virus" of the bookmakers and the better. He has attempted to make this an issue.

Taking things easy is Judge Eben D. Sampson, the republican standard-bearer, in whom the Kentucky Jockey club has found an excuse for optimism.

Sampson says not a great deal about racing, but makes no pretense of opposing the jockey club.

Old Horseman Wins With 3-Horse Stable

Chicago, November 4.—(AP)—Tom Cheek, the 103-year-old horseman, with his three horses stable, is on his way to Havana today to spend his sixteenth winter at the Cuban tracks, with a profit of $5,800 on the season's racing in Illinois. The other two horses brought in no purses, but Basha, which took the place of his aged Red, star endurance in last year's earnings $3,250, including six firsts, two seconds and four thirds.

This old Tom said he added $2,250 to this by wagering on Basha and held his expenses down to $1,810, including the cost of his 50-year-old stable "boy."

plots of the frigate Constitution, brings its successful engagement at the Erlanger theater to a close today, with two performances, matinee and evening, with a full house. An opportunity "kick" is provided by the head-on approach, under its mountain of billowing canvas, of the replica of "Old Ironsides," built and rigged with minute historical accuracy for this picture. Reserved seats may be had at the box office, M. Rich & Bros., or at Phillips & Crew Piano Co.

Keith's Georgia.

The Gus Edwards' "Ritz Carlton Nights," in which Edwards, himself, acts as master of ceremonies, will close the week's engagement tonight at Keith's Georgia. Patrons seem to have been unanimous in saying that the Gus Edwards show is the best that has ever been brought to the city. On the screen "Isle of Forgotten Women" give the story of life in the South Seas. Four complete shows will be presented today.

Capitol.

The team of Bronson & Gordon on the Capitol hill this week is one of the best of its kind seen here in many months. The lady member of the team has a small-girl voice that goes over to girls' hearts, while the man presents with it a happy line of chatter and comedy talk with her partner. Joe Jackson is the top-line headliner on the bill this week, and this famous pantomimist was never more popular than he is in his tremendous reception at the Capitol. "The Irresistible Lover" is shown on the screen.

Loew's Grand.

The thrilling chariot race and the stupendous sea battle depicted in "Ben Hur" at Loew's Grand theater this week are two of the biggest scenes ever produced in a motion picture. "Ben Hur" is the second of the week's engagement at Loew's Grand Saturday after hanging up new attendance records at this theater. This is the first time this picture has been offered at popular prices and the last showings of the present engagement will be made Saturday.

showings of the present engagement will be made Saturday.

Howard.

The feature picture at the Howard this week is "Two Arabian Knights," featuring William Boyd, Mary Astor and Louis Wolheim. It is said to be an unusually funny story of the adventures of the two "knights," who are two American doughboys who join their way after the war into Constantinople and then into Arabia. On the stage, in addition to the Publicity stage show, "Toytown," Al Short is presenting "Melodies Entrancing," a gorgeous extravaganza.

Forsyth.

Today offers the last two fives to see the truly great and gripping portrayal of the famous stage success, "Rain," by the Forsyth Players, led by that most talented of actresses, Miss Ethel Ward. "Rain," in its essence, is a stark, gripping and driving drama of human souls, the soul of a pious, yet human, minister and the soul of a sister of the streets, and the two are thrown in sharp relief against the background of a South Sea island in the rainy season.

Rialto.

"Tarzan and the Golden Lion," a thrilling jungle melodrama in which Edna Murphy as the star is supported by a whole menagerie of wild beasts and the Chinese Giant, Liu Yung, who stands eight feet tall in his native costume, closes its run at the Rialto theater with final showings this afternoon and evening. The other numbers on the program are the current edition of the Paramount Newsreel and a comedy.

Ponce de Leon.

Showing for the last times today at the Ponce de Leon is the stirring picture of Rin-Tin-Tin, the noted dog star, "Hills of Kentucky," unusually thrilling and exciting, even for a Rin-Tin-Tin picture, which as a whole, has a very high reputation for their merit.

New Fruit for Florida.

Ruskin, Fla.—Previously unable to grow apples, Florida appears to have solved the problem with a cross between a quince and an apple. Apple plants were grafted to quince settings several years ago by a farmer here, and while the resulting tree resembles that of a pear, the fruit is a bright red apple.

Three outstanding games of the season calling into action the principal undefeated elevens of the section, tonight wrinkled the brows of many a pigskin prophet in attempting to analyze the field fortunes of the gridiron.

As eastern fandom will concentrate tomorrow at Philadelphia for the first clash of Harvard and Pennsylvania in 22 years, at Princeton for the Tiger intersectional classic with Ohio state, and at Pittsburgh for the time honored meeting of the Panhandle. The Midwesterners, however, did not concentrate tonight on the chances of each for victory.

Washington and Jefferson has built an all-conquering offense about Bill Amos, fullback star, and Pittsburgh will have the savories of the flash, Gibbons, backfield, and offensive line.

For almost a month Pennsylvania has been harassed by injuries that have kept star players idling on the bench. Martin Brill, Paul Scull, John Shober and Mort Wilner, star backs, have been of little use to the team, while John Utz, a lineman, started his first game since Brown when he opposed Navy.

At the point of Haverford starting the same lineup that vanquished Indiana in a sensational fourth period sport, Brown will again call the signals with Mason and Crosby at the halves and Potter at fullback for the Crimson.

Changes have been made in the Pennsylvania backfield since last weekend. John Shober and Mort Wilner will call the signals in place of Murphy, who has been moved to a half-back post, replacing Alfred Wascom, three-year veteran. Martin Brill and Paul Scull, each of whom saw a little action against the Navy, will start in the backfield in place of Murray, former and Granville Carroll.

Failure of members to weigh in has caused play in the 140-pound class of the Sandusky football league to be discontinued for Saturday, it was announced Friday night. Officials of the league said that until the teams weighed in and had their weights attested by an official of the league, that no games would be played in this division. The teams that have not weighed in are Grant Lake, Rinky Dinks, Pea Greens, Scatter Hounds, Bluejays, Bluebirds, The Devil Jesters and Piedmont Pioneers.

In the 105-pound class the following teams will clash this morning: Gordons Street Feds vs. Grant Park Juniors at Grant Park; Northside vs. O'Keefe Panthers at O'Keefe Park; Dixie Park vs. Emory Juniors; Piedmont Park; Cardinals vs. Kirkwood at Piedmont Park; Cardinals and Altar Boys vs. South Side Terriers at Marist.

BY WHITNER CARY,
Constitution Staff Correspondent.

Jacksonville, November 4.—Any one who had any doubts as to the physical condition of the Georgia football team should have seen the boys in their light work-out this afternoon in the Municipal stadium, the scene of tomorrow's battle with the fast-traveling Florida Gators. There was a dash and pep shown by all hands that completely dispelled any notions that the past engagements had taken a heavy toll.

Every man on the squad, with the exception of Buzz Collins, who was left at Athens, is in good shape and ready for the whistle.

It is just as well that such a condition exists for rumor has it that the Gators are primed for this game as for no other game played this season.

The city of Jacksonville is football mad tonight. Georgia and Florida colors appear on all sides and there is as much talk of football and the impending game as there was about real estate and binders two years ago. No comparison could be stronger. The Georgia delegation, consisting of the Head Coach George McDaniel, Assistant Coach Harry Mehre, Trainer Bill Daley and a flock of red and black followers arrived this morning.

With one exception—in the opening race—favorites ran true to form and copped off the money. Ganglion, an outsider, outstripped the entire pack in winning the opener, which wasn't expected of him. Viceregent came in second and Golden Sceptre third.

The Jungs, who had been plenty slow to take the lead in the second race and held it until the end to win the event, was followed by Winding Ray, Corbin's Disturber was third.

Morning Mist Wins.

Morning Mist traveled like a whippet around the oval in the third race, a futurity affair, and legged the distance of one mile in 2:07.2, winning first honors. Commercial Traveler was second and Rabbit Run ran the rabbit fast enough to come in third.

The fourth race was over the five sixteenths distance and went to the dogs with the terrifying name of Dromedaria. Howling Ground was second and Miss Steam steamed in third. The time was 35 seconds flat. The Jungs continued to hold the lead until the end to win the fifth race, at one and one-half miles. Henry Clay came in second while Shanghai showed for third.

In the seventh race He Might Buck bucked out of the box in a hurry, got a good lead and kept it throughout the first sixteenths to come home in 3:04 seconds and win first place. He was followed by Killaville, Silver Linings and the fourth race He.

The weather, with the exception of a strong northwest wind that blows practically straight down the field could not be better. Not a cloud in the sky and there is just enough zip in the air to make the going fast. Those residents who should know such things say that the wind will be from the same quarter tomorrow and with the kick of the cool weather, the day can be anything but clear.

LITTLE BETTING.

The speculatively inclined gentrified people have not made their appearance to mark any marked extension. Rumor has it that the Ganglion supporters want 15 points before digging down in their pockets to back their team.

Couch Woodruff announced this afternoon that the start of the game will be at 3 o'clock Saturday. The wings, Morris and Lautzenhizer at the tackles, Smith and Jacobson at the guards, Boland and Boland at center, Brooks will start at quarter, Estes and McGuire at the halves and Rothstein at full.

Possibility that the charge might be increased to "attempting to obtain money under false pretenses" appeared later when it was learned that the commission contemplated such action if any of the ticketholders cared to make the complaint. When Dundee refused to enter the ring at Wrigley Field, he was told that the commission pointed out that he had no knowledge of the reported guarantee to the champion.

The commission today looked over Hudkins' claim to the welterweight crown, which to Morris, by narrow margin, whom the Petrels met next week in Macon. The invaders are one of the strongest teams in the S. I. A. A. and are known and feared by all of their rivals for their versatility, speed and fighting spirit.

Although the fight was not released the lineups it is expected to be as follows: Burford and Hancock on the flanks; Sims and Perine, tackles; Guthrie and Coffey, at guards, and Huston snapping at center. In the back field Martin is expected to call signals. Wall and either Taliacero and Fox playing halves and Shepherd at fullback.

The Presbyterians have made an excellent record this year, losing only one game, that to Merle, by narrow margin, whom the Petrels met next week in Macon. The invaders are one of the strongest teams in the S. I. A. A. and are known and feared by all of their rivals for their versatility, speed and fighting spirit.

Although the fight was not released the lineups it is expected to be as follows: Burford and Hancock on the flanks; Sims and Perine, tackles; Guthrie and Coffey, at guards, and Huston snapping at center. In the back field Martin is expected to call signals. Wall and either Taliacero and Fox playing halves and Shepherd at fullback.

The commission today looked over Hudkins' claim to the welterweight crown by default and tabled it. A crowd of angry ticketholders with their racing programs in hand, who had paid $100,000 for the fight, were present.

The commission also issued a statement that the fight will be held at Wrigley Field, Chicago, on November 10, at 3 o'clock.

Jackets Face Crisis in Game With Vanderbilt Today

Tech's Hopes Are Pinned On Result of Tilt

Team Realizes That Vandy Must Be Beaten To Have Successful Season.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Aboard the Tornado Special, 25 Route to Nashville, November 4.—That date line is a harmless combination of words. "En route to Nashville" may not mean much to the ordinary traveler who leaves the Gate City of the South for Nashville, but to at least 40 men of Tech's Golden Tornado and coaching staff aboard this train those words mean more than a little.

They mean that the Gold and White of Tech is facing the fork in the road, and it must choose the road. One lead to another victory and another better than an even chance to reach the last game of the southern conference season undefeated. The other highway, bordered by broken hopes, leads to defeat and disaster. It may even lead to oblivion insofar as the conference race is concerned.

The clunk, clank of the iron wheels, as they roll over the tracks of the N. C. & St. L. railway beat an accompaniment to the thoughts of the gridiron warriors of Georgia Tech. Those thoughts take different forms of expression, but the final chant is the same—clunk, clank, clink, clink, we must beat Vandy! And every time the wheels bring the Tornado closer to the crisis, there is a card game here and there. Some of the players are reading, but their amusements have only half their attention.

Here and there a laugh is heard, but it lacks the ring of truth. Underneath it all, though, the Tornado tells a story of coming battle which can't be denied. Tech is facing its crisis of the 1927 season and every man jack of the outfit realizes that fact.

Team Driven Hard.

All week at Grant Field Coach Alexander and his aides have been preparing their tricks and the various gridiron battles in preparation for this great struggle. The net result of this work was not gratifying to the coaches. The titanic struggle against the superteam of Notre Dame last Saturday and the long train rides contingent to the game left the Jackets a bit weary. Their morale is up, however, but very often a week of sleepy practice ends in a great show of play on Saturday.

Probably the greatest weapon that Tech carries to the fray Saturday is the knowledge that it is facing certain destruction if it does not play heads or tails against Vandy. It has been indicated that the combination stepping onto the field will be the strongest possible according to Coach Alec's views.

It is probable that Captain Crowley and Waddy will take care of the Hounds and Thrash will play at the end of the game. Captain Marion and Thompson will come on in the role of Peter Paul, giant center. Durant will call the signals while Mizell and Thomason run at the halves and Randolph at full.

If this combination does not prove effective there are two other backfield and two other lines to throw into the mix. The front four, probably, will contain the two veterans, Captain Crowley and Waddy, and the two rookies, Mizell and Thomason, will be the leaders of the attack.

We are due to arrive in Nashville at an early hour, but the cars will be shunted to the siding and the boys will not have to arise too soon. They will furnish the team with the even the most exciting for Captain Red Eskow, of the Tigers, is known as one of the most accurate passers in the state and his work has been instrumental in no small measure for the success of the Atlanta boys this year.

GATORS PLAN HARD BATTLE AGAINST GA.

Hagen Meets Joe Turnesa In Pro Final

Veteran "Haig" Play Great Golf To Down Al Espinosa in 37-Hole Match.

Cedar Crest Country Club, Dallas, Texas, November 4.—(AP)—Walter Hagen, the "Invincible" of the links, and Joe Turnesa, Elmwood, N. Y., flushed, hurled the last barriers of a great field of golfers today to fight it out tomorrow for the championship of the Professional Golfers' association.

Hagen, who hails from Pasadena, Fla., putted to win his typical tournament of the year. In 37 holes of his semi-final match, "The Haig" already has won the professional golf title four times.

Turnesa gained the final bracket in a runaway match with John Golden, of Paterson, N. J., whose putter and like a son's thumb today and forced him to howl 7 to 6 before the handsome Anglo-Italian from New York.

Great Battle.

Espinosa put up one of the greatest battles of the tournament against Hagen. The Chicagoan won holes with his putter and milked a long, long, long putt, but he paid the strain on the last nine robed him of the services of three trusty friends and he was in trouble on the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh greens while Hagen was dropping his safe pars.

Turnesa played fast golf in his morning round, every shot almost hitting the shortstop to the right and never a putt still damping for a gain or hanging on the lip of the cup for a sure par. Golden on the other hand was far off his putting game. He could not get close enough to the pin to be sure of his next putt and he failed to win a hole all morning, shooting an 18 while Turnesa turned in a 33, two under par on the first nine and finished the round in a pair 71.

The Hagen-Espinosa match was razed in many spots, but their dramatic fighting comebacks, time and again add an electric quality to it which the Turnesa match lacked.

Novice vs. Veteran.

Tommy Richardson will be a battle between youth and age and the movie and the veteran. It will also contain a slight element of revenge as Turnesa was eliminated in the first round of the P. G. A. event last year by Hagen. Turnesa is no stranger to major competition having been the runner-up in the open of 1929, but he is now a novice and, compared to the much heralded Hagen, he is a newcomer in the finalist ranks. Turnesa is 27 years old and Hagen is 35.

The Scotch, who invented the ancient and honored game, will have a chance for the title as Turnesa is an Anglo-Italian and Hagen an Anglo-Saxon.

NOTICE

FULTON COUNTY
TO THE SUPERIOR COURT OF RAID

The petition of ROBERT A. G. RICE and P. C. HERALD, all of said State and County, respectfully shows:

1. Petitioners desire for themselves, their associates and their assigns, to be incorporated for the term of twenty (20) years with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of that time, under the name and style of

CHELAW SAND COMPANY

The object of said corporation is to conduct a sand business.

3. The capital stock of said corporation will be Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, divided into One Hundred ($100.00) shares, par value of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars each, with the privilege of increasing said capital stock, from time to time, by not more than one-half of such stockholders, to the sum of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars, said additional stock to be issued without consideration, and to be entitled to stock, with such rights and privileges as a majority of the stockholders may determine, including the right to increase and decrease said capital stock, to decrease said capital stock from time to time, by a majority vote of its stockholders, to any amount less than Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars.

4. All of said stock will be paid before the incorporation of said corporation, and no stock will be paid in before said corporation begins business under the charter herein applied for.

5. The particular business proposed to be carried on by said corporation will be that of mining, manufacturing, buying, selling, storing, advertising, marketing, shipping, slag, clay and other aggregates, as well as manufacturing, buying and selling of materials which any one or more of the partners will have.

6. Petitioners desire that said corporation shall have the right to take, in part, or in whole, any real estate or personal property, at a fair valuation to be placed on the property by the board of directors, or by a committee of three.

7. Petitioners desire that said corporation shall have the right to own stock in other corporations to buy, to lease or to let, or to do business in other countries as may be deemed advantageous in the operation of the business.

8. Petitioners desire that said corporation shall have the right to promote and support any bill or bills to change, amend, or fundamental amendments by the vote of a two-thirds majority in amount of its outstanding stock.

Wherefore, petitioners pray that this petition be filed and published, as required by law, and may be fully incorporated, as provided, with all the privileges and powers herein set forth.

Scenes at Death Farm Where Negro's Body Was Found

Photos by Kenneth Rogers, Staff Photographer.

Views on the farm just off of Simpson road upon which the body of a negro, alleged to have been murdered in a moonshine feud, was unearthed Thursday by county police acting on a "tip" that three or four negroes had been slain and were buried there. The upper photograph shows the location of the grave from the home of L. B. Fuller, a state's witness who owns the farm. Figure one designates the grave and figure two is Fuller's home. The two lower views from left to right show Fuller's home and Thomas Trollinger, the tenant's home.

CONFESION CLAIMED IN DEATH FARM CASE

seeking in an investigation which was launched Friday into the fatal shooting on Sunday afternoon, October 29, of Mrs. T. A. Allen.

Thomas Trollinger, tenant of the farm, who surrendered Thursday night to his attorney, Lee B. Guillebeau, was being held incommunicado at the tower Friday night on a murder charge docketed by county police in connection with the investigation of the farm murder mystery. Trollinger was recently exonerated at a preliminary hearing in municipal court on a warrant charging him with the killing of Allen.

The attorney testified that the negro was dismissed after several state's witnesses testified that he was in a fit defense.

Witnesses Furnished.

Trollinger is said to have furnished the investigating officers with the names of several persons whom he is being rounded up as witnesses in connection with Allen's death and also who may be able to throw some light on the slaying of the negro whose body was found in the corn field on the farm.

County police late Friday night were making every effort to locate persons known to them having engaged in bootlegging or liquor in the section of the county. Witness after witness were questioned at length by the officers in an effort to solve the mystery of the activities of alleged rum runners who are said to have killed the blacks in a bootleg vendetta because the negroes' "kick" was greater than that of other powers and privileges as are granted to similar corporations under the laws of the State.

The principal office and place of business of said corporation shall be located in Fulton County, Georgia, but petitioners desire that it shall have the right to establish branch offices, agencies and places of doing business in other counties and states, as may be granted to any other state of the United States.

Petitioners desire that said corporation shall have the right to promote and support any bill or bills to change, amend, or fundamental amendments by the vote of a two-thirds majority in amount of its outstanding stock.

Wherefore, petitioners pray that this petition be filed and published, as required by law, and may be fully incorporated, as provided, with all the privileges and powers herein set forth.
